As stated

EXECUTIVE REGISTRY FILE DCI

Recommendation (29)

A civilian agency committee should be reestablished to oversee the civilian uses of aerial intelligence photography in order to avoid any concerns over the improper domestic use of a CIA-developed system.

Response:

I concur in this recommendation and urge that it be accomplished speedily. I should note here that--contrary to the statement in the Commission's Report--a proposed agreement for continuing support in this area of the Environmental Protection Agency was not concluded because of that Agency's law enforcement responsibilities.

Status (as of 12 May 1977):

As far as CIA is concerned, the whole tone of [redacted] would preclude any such activity by CIA. However, the specific Recommendation requires action by the Executive Branch outside the Intelligence Community. This issue is implicitly, though not explicitly, addressed in the Terms of Reference of Presidential Review Memorandum/NSC #23, "Coherent National Space Policy."
